Some questions answered...

- We aren't churchgoers... You can get married in Church of England Church what ever your beliefs. ^{Note 1}
- We haven't been baptised (Christened)... You don't need to have been Christened to marry in church.
- We don't want a Saturday wedding... You can have a wedding any day provided the church and a minister are available!
- Church weddings are too expensive... The average charge is around £580 but it can be more or less depending on the options you choose. ^{Note 2}
It's not a lot compared to the overall cost of your wedding day.
- One of us has been married before... The Church needs to be sure it's appropriate for you to marry in church—but for most people it shouldn't be a problem. Do ask!
- We already have children... Congratulations! If they are older maybe they can be bridesmaids or pageboys.

Notes

- 1 You simply need a qualifying connection (please read on).
- 2 For the very simplest ceremony it can be as low as £480. With all the optional extras the cost rises to about £850.
